

Our Tax Litigation and Disputes Group

William Fry LLP's (William Fry) Tax Litigation and Disputes Group is a multi-disciplinary team comprising solicitors, barristers, tax advisors and chartered accountants that is dedicated to and has extensive experience of advising on complex and sensitive tax disputes.

William Fry's Tax Litigation and Disputes Group combines the expertise of its highly respected tax practice group with litigators who have specialist experience of tax disputes, tax appeals and investigations.

We provide advisory services and represent clients in the Tax Appeals Commission, the High Court, the Court of Appeal and the Supreme Court. We also represent clients in the CJEU.

Our highly regarded team covers all aspects of tax disputes, from technical tax input, tactical litigation advice and court representation. We provide independent advice and support on all tax controversies pertaining to corporate/business taxes, mutual agreement procedures (MAP), personal tax, VAT, compensation and benefits and stamp duties. If an issue requires determination by the Tax Appeals Commission or by the courts, then our tax litigation experts are available to assist in bringing or defending all such proceedings.

Our Tax Litigation and Disputes offering consists of:

- working closely and collaboratively with clients and their advisers to resolve contentious tax matters discreetly before any court proceedings commence
- providing confidential and privileged advice
- representing and litigating on your behalf in the Tax Appeals Commission, High Court, Court of Appeal, Supreme Court and the CJEU
- assisting in all tax controversy matters from tax risk management to investigations, audits and settlements through to tax litigation
- advising on legal professional privilege issues and handling large discovery projects
- advising clients on some of the most significant topics in contentious tax, including State aid, transfer pricing, tax residence, mutual agreement procedures and the general anti-avoidance rules
- providing a client-focused service combining technical excellence with commercial awareness and a practical, constructive approach to business issues
